No TV for Lynda's Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson and Marine Capt. Charles Robb have picked romantic sunset time for their Dec. 9 White House wedding and have ruled out television coverage of the ceremony.

The Rev. Canon Gerald McAllister, a personable young Texas Episcopal clergyman, will perform the marriage, the White House also announced Sunday.

Guest list for the East Room nuptials of the President's daughter will be held to about 500 persons. That's 200 less than Lynda's sister, Luci, invited to her Aug. 6, 1966 cathedral wedding and White House reception.

This will be the first time in 53 years that a presidential daughter has been married in the White House. The Johnsons announced that "lack of space" will limit coverage by news media.

Only a pool of reporters will be permitted to cover certain portions of the event. There will be no television coverage of the wedding ceremony itself, a White House spokesman said.

Lynda and her young Marine fiancé have set their Saturday wedding for 4 p.m., about a half hour before sunset.

Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson, said the time of the wedding would be "an hour that suits the couple—and it also depends on the honeymoon destination," a locale that remains secret.

In choosing the minister, Lynda didn't look far from home. She picked the tall Texas clergyman, who only two weeks ago offered prayers for Lynda and Charles at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Fredericksburg, Tex., 15 miles from the LBJ Ranch.

He was so surprised when Mrs. Johnson called Saturday to ask him to perform the ceremony, "We didn't even discuss the details."

Two weeks ago when newsman asked him if he would preside, he replied, "No. That's a job for a bishop."

The Rev. Mr. McAllister, son of W. W. McAllister, mayor of San Antonio, has known the President's family about four years—ever since he presided at the laying of a cornerstone at the St. Barnabas Church.

Since about a year ago, when he became "supply priest" at the church, which has no regular minister, the Rev. Mr. McAllister has seen the first family frequently. The President often goes to St. Barnabas when he is spending weekends at his ranch.

The minister is anxious about the required ministerial counseling session required of all couples marrying in the Episcopal church. Such sessions are usually conducted by the minister who will preside over the ceremony, but the Rev. Mr. McAllister said Sunday, "If it's not possible for me to handle it then perhaps someone in Washington could."

The Rev. Mr. McAllister attended Lynda's alma mater, the University of Texas, and was graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary in 1951.

Another Mistaken Bombing Kills Three

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Marine plane accidentally hit the Marine outpost of Con Thien with a bomb Sunday, killing three Marines and wounding nine in the second mistaken bombing there in three days.

Communist shellfire wounded another eight Marines at the muddy base guarding Red infiltration routes just south of the demilitarized zone.

A mistaken bombing Friday killed two Marines and wounded 21. Both incidents were being investigated.

The defenders of Con Thien came under repeated savage shelling last month from North Vietnamese believed attempting to take the outpost but overwhelming American firepower beat back the assaults.

U.S. B-52 bombers, which play a major role in the battle around Con Thien, swept into North Vietnam 50 miles above the demilitarized zone, their deepest raid in 10 months and blasted the Mu Gia Pass. This is the main entry to the Ho Chi Minh trail, which carries Communist troops and supplies through Laos and Cambodia to South Vietnam.

The eight-engine, 58-million-pounders are usually kept away from possible danger from North Vietnamese missiles, which can reach them even at the 30,000-foot altitudes where they fly.

The bombers struck truck parks, supply concentrations and fuel storage sites at the pass after coming from Thailand over Laos so they would be

7 Killed in Weekend Accidents

Jones, Magill Named Deer To New Squire Class Hunter Killed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A class of 10 new Missouri Squires will be entertained by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes at the executive mansion Friday, Oct. 27.

It will be the eighth class of Squires, bringing the total to 77. The organization's founder, the late Gov. James T. Blair, put a ceiling of 100 on the membership of those who have made outstanding civic and professional records.

The new Squires are Henry D. Bradley of St. Joseph, Ernest R. Breech of Detroit, Richard S. Brownlee of Columbia, Stanley R. Fike of Independence, Leonard Hall of Caledonia, Edmund I. (Mike) Hockaday of Jefferson City, Paul C. Jones of Kennett, Arthur Clay Magill of Cape Girardeau, Theodore D. McNeal of St. Louis and Raymond R. Tucker of St. Louis.

Here are their citations:

Henry D. Bradley, for being an outstanding newspaperman; for his years of service on the state Highway Commission and his continuing concern in all matters of highway betterment, and for his civic leadership in St. Joseph.

Ernest R. Breech, for his brilliant career in American industry, and for maintaining an abiding interest in his home state and his home town of Lebanon throughout that career.

Richard S. Brownlee, for his dedication to Missouri history and the State Historical Society, and the sharp focus of his writing on interesting segments

Edmund I. (Mike) Hockaday, for his contributions to law enforcement and highway safety as commanding officer of one of the nation's outstanding police organizations, the Missouri Paul C. Jones, for his courage and independence in 20 years of duty as congressman, and his earlier public service as state senator and chairman of the State Highway Commission.

Arthur Clay Magill, for his enormous work in behalf of pure water supplies in the Mississippi Valley, and his long and useful life as college professor, county official, state legislator and civic club leader.

Theodore D. McNeal, for his many fine and effective qualities as a state senator and as a nationally respected leader in the labor movement.

Raymond R. Tucker, for the great skill in municipal matters that made him his 12 years as St. Louis' mayor a golden time of planning and progress in Missouri's largest metropolis.

William "Man" Howard, 21, 221 Dixie, was charged by Scott county authorities Saturday with the rape of a 79-year-old Sikeston woman and felonious assault of a 39-year-old Sikeston woman, Scott County Prosecuting Attorney Fielding Potashnick said.

Howard has lived in Sikeston "on and off for most of his life," Police Chief Arthur Bruce said. He was not steadily employed at the time of his arrest, but had been hauling hay in the area recently. He is believed to be on parole from a penitentiary in Indiana, but Scott county authorities are still checking on the parole status, Potashnick said.

Howard was arrested at his residence at about 10:15 a.m. Saturday by Chief Bruce.

He had previously gotten away from patrolman Dolph Webb who was summoned by Carrie Craig, 79, 102 Luther at about 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

Patrolman Webb was driving along Luther Street on routine patrol when she waived him down. She explained to Webb that a man had broken into her house during the night and used her, Chief Bruce said.

She then led Webb to a rear bedroom in her house, where Howard was sleeping. Webb awakened Howard and told him he was under arrest.

As he was getting dressed, Howard swung at Webb and ran out of the house.

Howard is also charged with assaulting Margaret Bratcher, 39, 215 Young. He reportedly attempted to rape her in front of her house at about 2:45 a.m. Saturday.

Howard is in custody of Sikeston police. He will be transferred to Scott county authorities in Benton. He is expected to appear tomorrow in magistrate court.

Celler has been holding out in conference for a provision in the bill passed by the Senate requiring that all districts be "as compact as possible." But of the five Senate conferees, only one, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., favors it.

The other four senators are insisting on language leaving it to the states to determine whether districts are "as compact as practicable."

Gerrymandering means to draw districts with roundabout boundaries so as to benefit a party.

At the last conference more than a month ago, Celler said he would never yield to the Senate conferees. "To turn this matter over to the states," he said, "would mean merely to continue the practice of gerrymandering. I have been striving for 30 years to stop this practice and I will not back down now."

Celler is now yielding, not to the Senate conferees, but to Indiana's 11 congressmen—five Democrats and six Republicans.

Plane Crash, Traffic Mishaps, Gasoline Blast Take Toll

Seven died over the weekend in accidents, three in traffic mishaps, three in a plane crash and one in a home gasoline explosion.

Dale Fenton Boone, 49, East Prairie, was the third to die from injuries in a plane crash Friday afternoon in Bollinger county.

Boone was a passenger in a plane that took the lives of Jack Hubbard, 49, East Prairie, and Roy Jackson, 25, Charleston. He died Saturday in St. Johns hospital, St. Louis, as the result of the plane crash and fire.

Two persons died following an ambulance-truck crash at the intersection of highways 61 and 62 in Sikeston, at 11:40 a.m. Saturday.

Harve Franklin Campbell, 78, East Prairie, a heart patient, was being transferred to the Missouri Delta Community hospital by Arden Dale Banks, 32, driver of a Shelby Funeral Home ambulance from East Prairie. He died Saturday at 2:30 p.m., as the result of a heart attack.

Mrs. Mamie Mae Fincher, 51, Charleston, died Saturday afternoon in the Missouri Delta Community hospital. She was a passenger in the pickup truck, driven by her brother, Ivory H. Harris, 54, Charleston, who was in two sisters, Althea and Linda Hartman, all of New Madrid.

Services will be 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Richards Funeral Home in New Madrid. Burial will be in the Evergreen cemetery in New Madrid.

Witnesses at the scene said the ambulance, traveling north on Highway 61, ran against the traffic light and had his flashing red lights and siren on. The truck driven by Harris was traveling east on Malone, or Highway 61. He had a green light, witnesses said.

The truck struck the driver's side of the ambulance. The impact bashed in the side of the am-

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—Three persons were killed when a single-engine Beechcraft plane crashed and burned 12 miles east of this south central Missouri community Sunday evening, the Highway Patrol said.

The patrol identified the dead as Dr. E. J. O'Kelley, Climax Springs Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Crella, of Tulsa, Okla.

The plane was en route from Athens, Ohio, to Tulsa, Okla., the FAA said. According to the flight plan filed in Parkersburg, the plane was piloted by Dr. O'Kelley and the passengers were one man and a woman.

The plane fueled at Festus, Mo., and then took off for Tulsa. There was a rainstorm at Lebanon at the time of the crash. Crella's age was 34, his wife's 33.

Celestial Show Slated

NEW YORK (AP) — Sky watchers will see a rare celestial phenomenon tonight as a nearly full moon hides the ringed planet Saturn from view for more than an hour.

Hayden Planetarium astronomers said the phenomenon take place in New York from 7:48 p.m. to 8:53 p.m. EDT, and will occur a few minutes earlier to the south and west, and a few minutes later to the north and east.

A Hayden spokesman said hiding of stars by the moon — called occultation — occurs several times each month, but hiding a planet is "quite rare."

What the sky watchers will see—with the unaided eye but more dramatically with binoculars or telescopes, was described this way by the planetarium spokesman:

"From about 7:15, the sky will become increasingly dark and Saturn will be noticeable to the left of the moon, less than the moon's diameter away."

"By 7:45, the dark edge of the moon will be less than the diameter of the rings away, and the closing of the gap will be very obvious."

"At 7:48, the western side of the rings will begin to disappear, and in less than a minute and a half the entire planet's rings will have vanished."

"To see the end of the occultation, observers should begin to watch the southwestern edge at the right about 8:50. Saturn should begin to appear at 8:53, but it will be difficult to see at the moon's bright edge. Saturn will return to full view by 8:55."

POOR CHARLIE SAYS! NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

Ours is a country that furthers its aims, as well as its gains, by adhering to principles and practices that recognize the importance of the individual, his education and his freedom of thought and speech. Coming at a time when most needed by a grievously troubled world is the annual All Faiths National Bible Week, which will celebrate its twenty-eighth observance the week of October 15 through 21. Once again, it is being sponsored by The Laymen's National Committee, incorporated. The theme of this worthy cause is "The Bible -- Book of Wisdom and Truth."

Never before in the history of mankind has it been more important to return to a frequent reading of the Holy Scriptures. What is happening to religious life in America? Why this rash clamoring that God is dead? Have we allowed ourselves to become so crassly materialistic that in taking for granted the daily blessings given us by Almighty God we have sold our birthright for the proverbial mess of pottage? How can we deny God's very presence when life's beauty and wonder are forever around us? Let us keep ever before us that Book of wisdom and of truth as a basic guide for conduct between human beings.

He is not a good talker; but everybody likes to talk with him, because he does not interrupt nor feel called upon to supply a word here and there.

The fluff over Liz Taylor's new dress was unnecessary. People know when Liz sees what she wants -- she brings it home.

The story is told about an old-time St. Louis doctor, who had practiced medicine close to 75 years ago.

The old man had been hard at work all day. Typhoid fever was plaguing north St. Louis, where he had his practice, and when he finally got to bed that night he was ready to sleep. The doctor had just about turned out the gas light, when there came a clamoring at the door below.

Peering out the window he saw a man who called up, "Doctor. . . my wife. . . she's in a chill." After a short question and answer session the physician deduced that there was nothing wrong with the lady, that wouldn't wait until the next morning.

Wearily, he called, "John, I'm going to write you a prescription. Give it to your wife and see that she covers up well and gets some sleep. I'll come by first thing in the morning."

Hastily scribbling out the prescription, he wrapped the paper round a walnut-sized chunk of anthracite from the bedroom scuttle and dropped it to the suppliant below.

Next morning, driving by the house, he stopped to inquire after the lady.

"She's fine," said the husband. "Just fine. Mind. . . she had a little trouble getting that big black pill down, but I chopped it up real small and she got it down with a drink of water. . ."

GOVERNORS LIVE IT UP

All but five state governors are expected to attend a nine-day cruise to the Virgin Islands beginning Monday (Oct. 16).

OUR STATE GOVERNORS like to live well. They are continuing plans to spend nine days aboard the ocean liner Independence in their annual conference. Earlier, some fears were expressed that the cruise might appear inappropriate in the face of mounting concern over urban riots and poverty.

One advance brochure states: "Never have such elaborate plans been made for a shipboard conference." Promised are "dancing and sumptuous entertainment," sunning, swimming, deck promenades, and Hawaiian-style cook-outs. The invitation for the meeting was sent out by Gov. Ralph M. Palewsky of the Virgin Islands. The governors' families will make up part of their entourages.

Television film will be sent ashore by helicopter. Other equipment will be installed for sending back news photographs and thousands of words of newspaper copy.

THESE ANNUAL GET-TOGETHERS of governors, supplemented by a number of regional and party gatherings, are by no means all fun and games. The meetings are held to give the chief executives the opportunity to exchange ideas and expertise on administrative problems without partisan heat. During the cruise this year Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller (R-N.Y.) is expected to make a progress report on his proposed urban action center, an organization which would advise the states on city problems.

The custom of having governors meet annually began in 1908. The National Governors Conference now has an office for federal-state relationships in Washington. Discussion is under way on nues, the extension of the block grants concept, accelerated comprehensive planning, and the role of governors in directing federal programs in their own states.

Five governors' committees will present reports on major state problems. Gov. William L. Guy (D) of North Dakota is the conference chairman. THE PARTY CONFERENCES of governors are the ones at which politics are serious and high-rolling. The 1952 Republican Governors' Conference marked a major accomplishment for the backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for President of the United States.

The bipartisan conferences have their political moments, too. The meeting this year will be enlivened by the presence of Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and Gov. Rockefeller, all prominently figuring in the battle for the G.O.P. nomination for President in 1968.

The Governors Conference chairmanship alternates from year to year, and for 1968 it will be the Republicans' term. In the past, when the Democrats have had easy dominance in the vote, it is alleged they would pick one of the weakest Republic governors and handily vote him into office. This year, with the state governors split 25-25, there won't be opportunity for that sort of shenanigans.

The cruise this year is expected to involve an investment of up to $750,000. Concerned over the political wisdom of the luxury cruise, the executive committee of the conference met at Osage Beach, Mo., last August to consider changes in plans. They did make one change in the conference schedule. They decided to eliminate the round-the-block bar for reporters and other hangers-on.

RAILROAD WAGE PACKAGE

Unless the railroads and railroad shopcraft unions reach a voluntary settlement before midnight Sunday, Oct. 15, the wage-increase package recommended last month by a special presidential board will take effect the following day. President Johnson has praised the recommendation as "one of the finest products" ever handed down by a presidential panel. The two parties directly involved in the dispute are considerably less enthusiastic.

The railroad companies are dissatisfied because the projected wage increases come close to meeting the union's original demands and therefore are "clearly inflationary." The unions are unhappy because they did not get everything they asked. And both sides dislike compulsory arbitration by a presidential panel -- even if the government prefers to call the process "mediation to finality."

Although the six-man presidential board submitted a unanimous recommendation, Frederick R. Kappel appended some dissenting remarks. The former board chairman of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company declared that the wage increases "are inconsistent with the current need to contain inflation" and that they "encourage resort to governmental procedures."

When the railroads negotiated a 5 per cent wage settlement last November with the trainmen's and firemen's unions, they were able to get a 3 per cent rate increase from the Interstate Commerce Commission. Implementation of the presidential board's wage formula will furnish ground for another rate-increase request. In the end, the public figures to pay for a major wage settlement through higher costs and prices.

NEW YORK (AP) -- "I like men," said actress Carolyn Jones. "I like the sound of their voices, the way they think. They're more sensitive than women. With a woman, everything is either this or that, black or white. But a man can see shades of gray. That's what I call being sensitive."

As a new step in her ever-widening career, Miss Jones has undertaken a seven-month tour as Ruth, central figure in Harold Pinter's controversial and murky play, "Homecoming."

This is a lot of hard work for a lady who is still counting the loot she earned from her two-year stint in "The Addams Family," a successful television series.

But "C.J.," as he friends call her, has always liked to do new and interesting things ever since she broke in show business in Amarillo, Tex., as a disc jockey at the age of 15. To her, life must have an accordant quality of expansion to avoid stalesness.

As witty as she is lovely--she has an intelligence quotient of 154--Carolyn isn't content to be known as one of the most talented actresses in television and films. At the close of her present tour she's prefer to undertake a singing and dancing role in a Broadway production. Eventually her hope is to become a producer.

Her own talent has enabled Miss Jones to live down that period of her career when critics were hailing her as "another Carole Lombard" or "another Bette Davis."

"That used to make me so angry," she admitted. "I'm me, and nobody else--and I don't imitate anyone else."

Carolyn is a free-wheeling, outspoken girl with a graceful thumb ever held to her nose against life's more absurd hypocrisies. Asked what she thought was her own biggest virtue and biggest fault, she laughed and replied:

"The best thing about me is that I am generally very honest. The worst thing about me is that everybody can make me feel guilty. I feel responsible about things that don't even concern me."

Is This What the Doctor Ordered?

ply this by some 196 million household garbage can on up to the largest industry.

A newspaper got a call from a woman who wanted her spouse's name put in the obituary column because she caught him kissing his secretary.

"How long has he been dead?" she was asked.

"He starts tomorrow."

BUT WHO PAYS
You can't blame people for wanting the best.

Why shouldn't they prefer a super-school, complete with stadium, to an ordinary school good only for teaching children? Why shouldn't they have a six-lane superhighway preference to a simple four-lane thoroughfare? Why shouldn't their old buildings in the cities be torn down and replaced with garden apartments? And why shouldn't they receive benefits of all kinds so that their lives will be pleasanter?

After all, think of all that boodle lying in Fort Knox, and all those additional billions of dollars being funneled into Washington. It's surprising how often you hear questions like those in paragraph two, based on the argument in paragraph three. Which indicates that a pretty impressive job of brainwashing has been done by a lot of politicians. Many people actually are thoroughly convinced that they can get a generous share of the good things of life for nothing or, if there is any charge, someone else will pay for them. Further, they have come to believe they are entitled to these things.

Employing the selfsame pitch, the politicians who promise something for nothing would lead their constituents into a department store, tell them to order anything in the place, and just charge it. To whom? Why to their neighbors. The fellow the Communists in China weren't next door. Or, better yet, the fellow down the street in that big house. Obviously he can afford it.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Behind all the maneuvering over a tax increase, house ways and means chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., is deftly trying to shift the cost of escalating the Vietnam war from the poor to the pockets of the privileged.

Maneuver No. 1 -- Mills flatly refused to close the tax loopholes to raise the money needed to pay our growing military bills. This would have come out of the pockets of the privileged.

Maneuver No. 2 -- He demanded that President Johnson match the tax increase by cutting an equivalent amount out of the great social programs. This would come essentially out of the pockets of the poor.

The most equitable way to reduce the Vietnam war deficit should be to plug the tax leaks and compel the privileged to pay their fair share. Treasury officials acknowledge privately that a tax increase would not be needed at all if Congress would only stop up the loopholes.

Hardest hit would be the oil millionaires, who shout from the rooftops about their patriotism but who use the 27 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance to escape paying their share of the Vietnam war costs.

The able and amiable Mills, however, has always treated the oil millionaires as if they were underprivileged. He would rather squeeze the necessary military revenue out of social programs that help the needy.

He may deny, of course, that he wants to take food out of the mouths of the poor rather than deprive the oil millionaires of their sables. Yet in the back rooms of the ways and means committee, the demands for spending cuts have been directed principally at the antipovity program.

In contrast, not a single way and means member--least of all Mills--has shown the slightest disposition to tighten the oil depletion allowance. The most Mills has promised, simply to placate the public, is that he will take up tax reform next year (when the pressure is off).

Meanwhile, Mills was already sor Owen Lattimore, one of the an indignant little boy marched IPR luminaries, as "a conscious out. The fireman grinned. articulate instrument of the "It works nearly every time!" Soviet conspiracy," and recommended that the Department of Justice submit to a grand jury "the question of whether perjury has been committed by Owen Lattimore before the subcommittee."

People have a way of forgetting such things, which probably explains a curious document recently issued by a Wall Street outfit which tells people where they can invest their dollars, and which is strictly capitalistic, of course. This publication asked none other than Professor Owen Lattimore, the old China hand, for some words of wisdom concerning Vietnam. Possibly because the editor had never read the Report of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, he described the Professor in somewhat different terms:

"Mr. Lattimore, a United States citizen, has long been a subscriber to the Value Line Survey and is well-known to us as a practicing capitalist..."

After reassuring readers on that score, the writer of the introductory remarks dismissed the Senate Subcommittee's findings by saying that the Professor had been "caught up in the tragic confusions of the McCarthy era..."

If you'd like to know about these confusions and how the Professor contributed to them, we suggest you read the testimony taken in the hearings in which the Professor played a leading role. In any case, it seems to us that the Professor is now echoing essentially what he was telling people two decades ago when he was billed as a China expert. (Remember what happened to China) One Lattimore thesis of today is that we are mistaken in thinking that in Vietnam "the trouble is of communist origin." Seems to us that twenty years ago the Professor was saying that the Communists in China weren't next door. Or, better yet, the fellow down the street in that big house. Obviously he can afford it.

Of course, the politician who pulled that stunt would wind up behind bars -- but isn't this exactly what such a fellow does when he offers the voters something for nothing? Somebody has to pay for all those "free goods and allotments" he offers and you may be certain that he, himself, is not picking up the tab. So he redeems his pledges by charging the tab for his voting district to the entire country. The rest of the country can't vote against him.

And what about the fellow who wants something for nothing and doesn't care who pays for it? Well, there's such a thing as poetic justice. Often such a chiseler finds out that he is stuck with the bill, himself. Plus the surcharge to take care of the promising politician.

THE PROFESSOR SAYS
Some fifteen years ago, at the conclusion of its lengthy investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee (which did not have Senator McCarthy as a member) characterized Profes-

Promptly the door flew open and he was neither for "isolationism" nor for "unilateral withdrawal" from Vietnam. Yet this was the most massive gathering of active and politically successful liberals in recent history.

This evening it was to each his own. When a telegram was read from Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, the throng barely stopped digging into its fruit salads. When a wire was read from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the applause was polite, perfunctory and positively brief.

This was a crowd hungry for action on the urban front. It cheered demands for more and more domestic spending. It heard no outcries for less and less to fighting abroad. It applauded and roared approval of AFL-CIO Vice president A. Philip Randolph's denunciation of Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown as dangerous irresponsibles. But even this veteran Negro leader there were no cries for abandonment of America's position in Vietnam.

On this date were labor leaders without whom there cannot be any effective junk-Johnson campaign.

"What we had there the other night was an intelligent discussion of the urban dilemma," said one of those labor chief around whom the Liberal Party pivots as it expands across intellectual-class lines. "Our state chairman, Rev. Donald S. Harrington, said it's a matter of money, not a question of dumping Johnson."

"I'm for our position in Vietnam, I'm for Johnson. But I'm also for solving the urban problems. So let's spend as much on our cities as on the military. There was no attack on our fighting. Didn't John Lindsay say: '... I believe that this country should continue to help people who want and need help to achieve self-respect, a decent living standard and the independence we have so long enjoyed...'"

Apparently the difference settles down to some $50 billion. But there appeared no doubt that the broad-based liberal coalition, which has helped Democratic presidents carry New York State for decades, seeks no political dumping grounds. They do talk a fine independent game. But then, these are the men who helped invent collective bargaining.

If there was any need for it, the '67 Liberal Party banquet assured Lyndon Johnson's re-nomination, as did the '63 bread-

Dump-Johnson Campaign Gets Dumped by Liberals
New York: -- Actually, though still unreported, the earliest dump-Johnson movement was organized in the summer of '63.

By August of that grim year its leader Arthur Schlesinger Jr., had at least eight "insiders" organized into a tight, lead-proof caucus. It met and planned carefully to jettison the vice-president, first by undermining him with the late President Kennedy and then by mockingly discrediting him politically.

The get-Johnson operation was in high gear when it blew a gasket. Somehow, someone got word to Mr. Johnson. Coincidentally a few days later he was invited to make the principal speech at the Oct. 15 annual dinner of the Liberal Party -- which swings the balance of power in this big swing state. Mr. Johnson came and conquered. Most New York progressives expected the Texan to have longhorns or some crude petroleum. In his own case, he talked their own language.

They cheered. He carried the Liberal crowd as he would Johnson City. That evening -- during which he was hailed as the future Democratic presidential nominee in '68, as well as the 1964 vice presidential candidate -- assured his place on the ticket. The Schlesinger caucus splintered. Some of its members attempted to keep Liberal party leader and chief strategist Alex Rose, the political hatter, from the White House.

Exactly four years later, the other night, in the same grand ballroom, history repeated itself and dumped the dump Johnson campaign.

In that ballroom last Wednesday night were jam-packed 2,000 sophisticated, politically astute liberals -- some new, some old, ready highly placed jurists. What might have been a flash fire anti-Johnson rally turned merely into a fireworks display for more than a hundred million dollars in spending, say $50 billion, for butter as well as bullets, for ripping out ghettos as well as whipping up guns.

No one attacked the fighting. No one demanded withdrawal. No one rose and departed when hawks were introduced. No doves flattered. They cheered and applauded when speakers called for spending as much money on urban crises as on the military crisis, but they also clapped loudly when Mayor John Lindsay warned that

Couple Exchanges Vows

DEXTER - Miss Brenda Joyce Duley, daughter of Mrs. John R. Duley, Dexter, and the late Mr. Duley, exchanged marriage vows with Willis Eubanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Eubanks, Bloomfield, Wednesday, Oct. 1 at the Second General Baptist church.

The Rev. Charles Chrisp, pastor performed the 4 p.m. ceremony.

Organist was Mrs. Sam Montgomery and vocal music was offered by Mrs. Wayne Duley.

A white wrought iron archway accented with yellow gladioli, greenery and wedding bells highlighted the altar settings, with palms in the background.

Given in marriage by her brother, John W. Duley, the bride selected a floor length creation of lace and tulle over taffeta. The close fitting bodice featured a sabbina neckline and sleeves of lace that extended to points over her hands. The full, bouffant skirt was formed with tiers of lace. Her veil of illusion was secured to a small crown and she carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Curtis Henderson was her sister's matron of honor and she wore a dress of gold velvet fashioned in street-length with elbow length sleeves and a round neckline. White gloves and a short facial veil along with a bouquet of yellow carnations complemented her outfit.

Best man was Leon Wilton of Bloomfield. The men in the wedding party selected dark suits and boutonnieres of yellow carnations. Ushers were Wayne Duley and Curtis Henderson.

Mrs. Duley selected for her daughter's wedding a brown dress accented with a gold sash. Mrs. Eubanks wore a beige ensemble and both mothers wore corsages of yellow carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church dining room. The bride's table was lavishly decorated with white cloth and held the three tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. Mrs. John Duley and Mrs. Wayne Duley presided at the serving table.

Guest book attendant was Miss Cecilia Beel of Bloomfield. Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Polen of Millersville.

The newlyweds will make their home near Aquila. Eubanks is employed at MFA in Advance and Mrs. Eubanks has just completed nursing training in Poplar Bluff.

Auxiliary Has Goal of 119 Members

Henry Meldrum Unit 114, American Legion Auxiliary, met Thursday at 7 p.m. with Mrs. Fred Tope Jr., President, Mrs. C. E. Felker, presided. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Tope in the absence of the chaplain. Five officers answered roll call with a total of fourteen members in attendance.

Mrs. Tanner Dye, chairman of the Quilters gave an annual report on activities from Aug. 16, 1966, to Oct. 7, 1967. The women quilt on Wednesday of each week at the American Legion Hall.

The secretary reported that the unit needs 119 members to reach goal and 75 of that number has been sent to state department. The membership committee is hoping the goal will be reached by Oct. 25. Each year at the fall conference held in Jefferson City every unit that has reached its goal in membership receives a citation plus one dollar bill from the state department president.

A complete report was given on the corndog stand the unit operated at the annual American Legion Cotton Carnival last month. The President extended a thank you to those assisting with the corndog stand or the soft drink stand.

The auxiliary voted to make a contribution to the United Fund, Child Welfare and Rehabilitation Chairman Mrs. Tope reported she had supplied medicine, food and clothing to families of veterans. She is now in need of furniture for a family. Anyone wanting to donate articles, contact Mrs. Tope at 471-1928 and she will have them collected.

The next meeting will be a potluck supper Nov. 9 at the home of Mrs. Felker.

MRS. J. ERNEST HARPER, SR., has owned and operated Harper's Travel Service since February of 1957.

Mrs. J. Ernest Harper Sr. Sikeston Business Woman

This is National Business Women's Week. The Daily Standard will feature Sikeston business women in pictures and stories each day.

Today's business woman is Mrs. J. Ernest Harper, Sr., owner and operator of Harper's Travel Service.

Mrs. Harper says she has seen changes in travel since she opened her business in February, 1957. She says more people are traveling by airplane and that they are taking more vacation trips. Most travel by ship is in the form of cruises. Besides arranging for travel tickets, Mrs. Harper can plan for hotel reservations and car rentals.

She is assisted by Mrs. Ladell

Berkbigler. This year marks the 40th annual wide observance of Business Women's Week, sponsored by Business and Professional Women's clubs.

In 1928, the President of the United States officially proclaimed the first National Business Women's Week. Since, it has been a custom for the president to open the week with a proclamation with proclamations being made by governors and mayors.

A Congress of American career women leaders will be held in Washington, D. C., arranged and sponsored by the National Federation of B & PW and attended by the presidents of national organizations serving career women. The theme of the congress is "The Career Woman -- Her Total Responsibilities."

Active participation during this week has been made a public relation requirement for a club award this year. The theme is "Plan For Progress -- All Systems Go."

Mrs. Estelle Pitman of the Sikeston club is chairman of the National Business Women's Week committee.

The public is invited to a coffee Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday at Pitman's Cleaners, 96 North Kingshighway.

The coffee, sponsored by the club, will climax the week's observance.

At the Naval Radio Training School in Madison, Wis., the WAVE physical education officer was faced with the task of molding 300 women of varying degrees of lumpiness into sleek-looking servicewomen. During one particularly strenuous workout, she informed us that we must tighten up, forget our girdles and depend on our muscles to hold our tummies in -- to which my roommate muttered, "And what muscles must we strengthen to hold up our stockings?"

COMPUTING OUR WAY TO PEACE ON EARTH

If you feed the computer all the details concerning a given problem, it flashes back the answer. Now, if the machine were given details concerning the strength of two opposing forces, their equipment, their armor, the terrain, it should be able to calculate which of the two armies would win a war. There would then be no need to go to war, because we would know the result without fighting.

In response to my suggesting this plan, a Jewish philosopher wrote me saying that it has been tried. He said that a general fed the computer all the statistics flashed back and forth and finally the machine said, "Yes."

The general asked, "Yes, what?" The computer replied, "Yes, sir!"

Minnesota Spills Green Bay, 10-7

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
No wonder the winning habit hasn't come easy for the Minnesota Vikings. They only played Green Bay a couple of times each year.

The Vikings pulled the biggest upset of the year, National Football League season Sunday, spilling Green Bay's world champs 10-7 on a 12-yard field goal by Fred Cox with eight seconds to play.

It was Minnesota's first victory of the season, and the first setback for the Packers since they bowed to the Vikings 20-17 last November.

"Beating Green Bay is getting to be a habit," quipped Cox, whose second field goal in the 1936 game at Green Bay provided Minnesota's margin of victory.

After losing that one, however, the Packers reeled off five straight victories, beat Dallas for the NFL title, whipped Kansas City in the Super Bowl and got off to a 3-0 start this year.

The Vikings, meanwhile, dropped five of their last six games in 1955 for a 1-5 finish and were 0-4 this season going into Sunday's game at rain-drenched Milwaukee, Wis.

While the Vikings were overtaking Green Bay with a 10-point spurt in the final period, the Los Angeles Rams came from 10 points down in the last six minutes to earn a 24-24 tie at Baltimore and spoil the Colts' perfect NFL record.

At Atlanta, Wade Trynham's 31-yard field goal with two seconds remaining gave the winless Falcons a 20-20 deadlock with Washington.

At Pittsburgh, Fran Tarkenton's 60-yard TD bomb to Joe Morrison off a triple reverse shot the New York Giants past the Steelers 27-24 with 1:50 to go.

At Philadelphia, Ken Wilborn's fourth-quarter scoring burst carried the San Francisco 49ers to a 28-27 nod over the Eagles.

The Dallas Cowboys edged New Orleans 14-10, the Cleveland Browns shaded St. Louis 20-16 and the Chicago Bears subdued Detroit 14-3 in other NFL games.

In the American Football League, San Diego outscored Kansas City 45-31, New York and Houston battled to a 28-28 tie, Oakland trimmed Buffalo 24-20 and Boston slugged Miami 41-10.

Green Bay's Zeke Bratkowski, unbeaten in eight previous games as a relief pitcher for Bart Starr, had two fourth-quarter passes picked off by the Vikings, who turned each theft into a score.

Bruce Gossett's 47-yard field goal and Roman Gabriel's third scoring pass—a 16-yarder to Bernie Casey with 2:57 to play—pulled Los Angeles even at Baltimore. The Colts had won their first four games and appeared to have No. 5 wrapped up on Johnny Unitas' 31-yard TD pitch to Willie Richardson early in the fourth quarter.

Unitas, who signed a three-year contract for a reported $375,000 before the game, also hit Alex Hawkins with a 14-yard TD pass. Lou Michaels kicked a 45-yard field goal for the Colts, but missed a 44-yard bid with 1½ minutes remaining.

The Redskins, beaten by Dallas in the final minute a week ago, erased a 17-14 Atlanta lead on a 24-yard Sonny Jurgenson-Bobby Mitchell TD pass with 42 seconds to go. But Tommy Nobles, Atlanta's brilliant linebacker, blocked the extra point kick by Brag Owens and Trynham's tying three-pointer capped a last-ditch drive by the Falcons.

Trailing 24-20 at the two-minute warning, the Giants caught the Steelers napping when Tarkenton handed off to Ernie Koy, who slipped the ball burst carried the San Francisco

The Maryville State Bearcats retained possessions of the "old hickory stick" by beating Kirksville 13-7 and are headed for an important clash at Cape Girardeau State Saturday night in MIAA football.

In the MCAU, William Jewell is still flying high with a perfect record in five games after winning its league opener, 28-14 at Graceland, while other league schools ran the MCAU's outstanding outside record to 12-4-2 with two more victories.

Maryville trailed 7-0 at half-time and seemed out of it with three minutes left, down 7-6 and fourth-and-10 at its own 30-yard line. But the Bearcats faked a punt, Leon Muff ran 11 yards, and they won it with a 44-yard pass, Don Orlewski to Wayne Willich.

Springfield State's defending champs, 21-0 winner over Rolla on the running of Ardia McCoy and Tom Gold, play host to Kirksville. In the other MIAA game Saturday night, Rolla plays at Warrensburg, 24-14 loser at home to Cape's balanced attack led by quarterback Greg Brune.

Central Methodist got its first MCAU victory, 13-6 at Culver. Stockton in the other league game. Outside the league, Missouri Valley made its record 4-1 by winning at home 21-14 over Albert Lea, Minn., and Tarkio made its mark 4-1-1 by whipping Northwestern of Iowa 39-0 at Tarkio.

FREE SIGHTSEEING TOUR OF ARKANSAS
MOST SCENIC OZARK MOUNTAIN REGION!

The Tourist and Recreation Committees of Fulton and Izard Counties, Melbourne, Arkansas (in behalf of Horseshoe Development Corporation), cordially invite responsible married couples to be their guests on a fabulous FREE SIGHTSEEING TOUR through the Arkansas Ozarks.

A special bus will leave Sikeston at 8:00 a.m. on Sunday, October 22 and return on Monday, October 23.

Will you be among the select group to make this wonderful trip? To find out, fill in and mail the coupon below. Selections will be made on a first-come first-serve basis. Your reservation will be confirmed by return mail. Remember, this is a bona fide FREE SIGHTSEEING TOUR!

You will travel in a luxurious air-conditioned bus. We pay your travel fare and all lodging. Your only expense will be your meals and your purchases along the way.

Your first stop will be Mammoth Springs, Arkansas, where you will see the gushing spring that has been a feature of this famous spa for more than 100 years and serves as the source for Spring River. You will see such sights as the huge dams that form Lake Norfolk and Bull Shoals, the world's largest trout hatchery, countless Ozark caverns, the White River, world famous for float fishing and Rainbow trout, and many other scenic spots. You'll spend the night high in the Ozarks at Calico Rock, Arkansas.

Early next morning you will go to Horseshoe Bend, near Grankin, Arkansas. Horseshoe Bend is one of the nation's outstanding recreation-vacation-resort retirement areas now under development. You will enjoy, free of charge, many of our modern recreation facilities and you'll dine at our swank Turkey Mountain Clubhouse. You'll be given a complete tour of Horseshoe Bend and learn all about our unique private club membership plan which includes privilege of land purchase. However, you will be under no obligation to buy nor will Horseshoe Bend be under obligation to sell.

In the afternoon you will start the homeward journey which will take you through other scenic Ozark areas in Arkansas and Southern Missouri.

Remember, selections for the tour will be made on a choice first-come, first-served basis. Fill in and mail the coupon TODAY to Horseshoe Development Corporation, Franklin, Arkansas.

Trojans Stun Irish; Cornhuskers Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern California's publicity campaign to move this year's Game of the Decade from the Midwest to the West Coast has opened with one eye-popping orange juice commercial.

Even Notre Dame, after a taste of O.J., is buying. It came about last Saturday when Southern Cal's O.J. Simpson thrust himself onto the national scene by leading the Trojans to a decisive 24-7 victory over the Irish in college football's game of the day.

The loss dispelled any hopes twice beaten Notre Dame had of retaining its No. 1 ranking of 1965 assured by its Game of the Decade tie against Michigan State and a final 51-0 victory over USC.

On the other hand, the victory was sure to strengthen Southern Cal's present No. 1 ranking and further enhance its upcoming traditional battle against UCLA Nov. 18 should the Trojans, 5-0, and Bruins keep winning.

UCLA, No. 4, ran its record to 5-0 with a 37-14 whipping of California as Gary Beban passed for two scores and ran for another.

Second-ranked Purdue also had an easy time, swamping Ohio State 41-6 to remain unbeaten in four games and No. 6 Colorado, Alabama, No. 7, and North Carolina State, No. 9, also carried on.

But two other Top Ten clubs—Georgia and Nebraska—dropped from the undefeated as Mississippi stunned the third-ranked Bulldogs 29-20 and Kansas surprised the Cornhuskers, No. 8, 10-0.

Tenth-ranked Houston was idle. Notre Dame, oddly a two-touchdown favorite, kept the top Cornhuskers' first shutout in six years under Bob Devaney. Bob Douglas passed and ran the touchdowns to their touchdowns while Nebraska threatened only once in the game.

Tennessee put its claim on the Top Ten with an impressive 24-13 victory over Georgia Tech and Michigan State smashed Michigan 34-0 in other big games.

USC Coach John McKay, glorying in the revenge of last year's humiliating loss to Notre Dame, said his club "had more speed, better running backs and just better football players in there—and that's why we won."

Purdue, which beat Notre Dame earlier, ran its record to 4-0 behind Mike Phipps, who hit nine straight passes for 142 yards and two TDs for a 35-0 halftime bulge.

Colorado, 4-0, controlled the ball most of the time against previously unbeaten Missouri, but needed three field goals by Dave Bartelt to help overcome an early 7-6 deficit and continue to a 23-6 triumph.

Two field goals by Steve Davis and Kenny Stabler's second TD pass to Dennis Homan snapped a 14-14 tie for Alabama, which hasn't been beaten in 25 games, and the Tide breezed 35-21 over Vanderbilt.

North Carolina State unloaded in the second half for its fifth straight victory, beating Maryland 31-9 after trailing 3-0 at the half.

Fired-up Mississippi overcame a 14-12 halftime deficit as a fumble led to a 22-yard field goal by Jim Keyes and a 69-yard punt return and a pass interception led to two more scores in the second half.

Kansas completely tamed Nebraska's surprisingly convincing 23-9 victory before 44,517 at Boulder, it was either a case of tremendous defensive effort, or amazing reversal of momentum—or both.

The fanatical Kansas defense was led by end John Zook, 6-foot-4 and 240, who made 15 tackles and smashed towering Frank Patrick for several losses, and Orville Turgeon, 203-pound tackle from Valentine, Pepper Rodgers, new Kan.

Cape Girardeau Man Fatally Shot

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. AP -- Chester A. Sarff died Saturday, of gunshot wounds in the head suffered shortly after midnight near a police station in Cape Girardeau.

Police said a desk sergeant heard a shot and the sound of glass breaking. Sarff was discovered by another officer and was taken to St. Francis Hospital, where he was pronounced dead hours later.

A .22 caliber rifle was found near the body, police said. There was no apparent motive and no suspect in the shooting, police said.

Pictures Sought At Library in New Madrid

NEW MADRID -- Framed and ready for hanging art reproduction have proved to be a popular library service to New Madrid counties.

Of the 72 art reproductions purchased by the library a year ago, only eight are not in circulation. Sixty-four of these reproductions are hanging on walls of home and offices. These reproductions may be checked out for one month. They are then rechecked for another month or exchanged for another painting.

The library plans to purchase more reproductions this winter.

Back Copies of Magazines Available

NEW MADRID -- Much information is available in back dated periodicals being collected at the New Madrid county library. More than 20 magazine

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: Most people believed the money they paid for Social Security went into a "trust fund." Yet a short time ago the Secretary of the Treasury stated that unless Congress raised the debt ceiling, Social Security checks might not be mailed out.

When you buy gas for your car you feel this gas tax is also going into a trust fund for use solely to build roads and highways. Yet you now hear that unless there is a surtax placed on your income, the highway program will have to be curtailed.

STAND FOR AMERICA I like to be American, And stand up for the right. I like American honor, Which is liberty, peace and fight. Let's think about our servicemen. Who are loyal, brave and true; Let's think about the H-bomb, And the damage it could do. So let's defend our righteous freedom.

Hold it firm and true, And we'll stand up for Old Glory; For the red, the white and blue. United we should stand, And fight it out together.

Russell C. Matzen, city health officer, said he had been notified that the Missouri-Illinois area is in a cycle where the disease aggressive we are not at all, could be severe this winter. If we will trust our leaders, Dr. J. R. Cochran, president of the medical society, has urged that residents have the flu vaccine to build up immunity or resistance to the disease. He said elderly people are most prone to its attack.

Teddy Kennedy Has Fun at Bobby's Expense

JEFFERSON CITY -- Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Saturday appointed Judge J. P. Morgan of Chillicothe to the Kansas City Court of Appeals.

Judge Morgan, 50, a Democrat, was one of three judges nominated earlier in the day for the post by the Appellate Judicial Commission. Others nominated that day were Circuit Judges Alvin C. Randall and Tom J. Stubbs, both of Kansas City.

The post on the appeals bench at Kansas City was made vacant with the resignation of Judge Sam he doesn't want to be presi- dent." Kennedy's remark came after a telegram was read at a party fund-raising dinner in honor of Gov. Robert Docking. The New York senator sent birthday greetings to Docking, who was 42 last Monday. The telegram from Robert Kennedy said: "I'm sorry I can't be with you tonight but I've sent my brother to read my speech for me. When he's through with it, please send him right home." "Unlike my brother Bobby," Edward Kennedy chuckled, "I do know where my home is." The younger Kennedy also said there is nothing to reports about a presidential ticket of Robert Kennedy and Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., for 1968. "My brother hasn't selected his vice president for 1968 yet, he continued in a kidding vein. President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey sent greetings to Docking. Docking said he was touched by the events of the evening. He added, "And I know all of you have also been touched."

Seven Die in Area Accidents In September

In the 269 accidents investigated last month in Southeast Missouri by Troop E. officers of the highway patrol, seven persons were killed and 125 injured.

Property damage in these accidents totaled $166,530. During September, 1966, Troop E officers investigated 288 accidents in which 13 were killed and 214 injured. Property damage totaled $214,460.

Through September Troop E officers this year investigated 2,219 accidents with 90 fatalities, 1,302 injuries and $1,373,520 property damage.

Statistics for area counties are: Bollinger -- seven accidents, six injuries, $5,475 property damage last month; 81 accidents, 59 injuries, $53,865 property damage this year.

Butler -- 35 accidents, three

PHILLIE FANS ARE TOUGH ATLANTA (AP) -- Bob Uecker, recently traded by the Philadelphia Phillies to the Atlanta Braves for catcher Gene Oliver, says: "Rich Allen hits 40 homers and drives in 100 runs and the Philly fans boo him. The fans in Philly are the toughest anywhere. They probably go down to the Schuylkill river and boo the scullers. They'd even boo an Easter egg hunt."

The Braves wanted Uecker because he has a reputation as a knuckleball catcher, and the Braves have a few of them.

WSCS Circle Approves Flag Fund

BELL CITY - Mrs. W. C. Wheeler entertained the Zella Bollinger circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon. One visitor, Mrs. John Austin, was present.

Mrs. Chester Arnold, chairman, opened the meeting. Mrs. Otto Richmond gave the opening prayer. The group voted to start a fund to purchase a new flag for the church to be presented at the general meeting for final vote. Mrs. Richmond, program leader, used the Book of Peter as her theme. A social hour followed.

Barbara Ann Abner, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Abner, is recovering from an eye surgery at McMullin hospital in St. Louis. She will return to classes in sixth grade Monday. Jeff Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Jackson, placed first in the 11-year-old class of the pass, punt and kick contest at Cape Girardeau Central high school Saturday. Trophies will be awarded by the Cape Jaycees. Winners from Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois will compete for the regional championship.

Old Buildings Handicap M.U.

COLUMBIA -- Too few classrooms, inadequate teaching and research laboratories, crowded office space, aged buildings in need of repair or replacement, temporary post-World War II structures still hamper the University of Missouri in its efforts to give Missourians the quality of education they expect -- and need.

The state in recent years has made available sizeable capital funds, and extensive support has been received from Federal and other sources; many new modern buildings have been provided, others are in process of construction, old buildings have been remodeled and modernized, and the four campuses have witnessed almost a "mushroom" growth in physical facilities. But a steadily accelerating enrollment and increased demand for educational and research services from all areas of the state have outpaced that growth.

The growing shortage of working room is graphically illustrated by the sharp drop in average floor space per student in recent years despite the many additions to physical facilities. The average space per student at Columbia in the fall of 1963, when this became a four-campus institution, was 171.6 square feet, which fell to 143.7 square feet in the fall of 1966; the average at Kansas City in 1963 was 117.6 square feet in 1963, and only 60.4 square feet in 1966, striking indication of the needs of that urban campus; and the average at Rolla was 143.00 in 1963, which dropped to 112 square feet by 1966.

sizeable, immediate appropriations for new facilities."

Supporting information included in the budget request points out that since 1962 full-time equivalent enrollments at the University have increased by 110 percent, from 17,423 to 36,600 students; that for 1968-69 four-campus enrollments are expected to total 40,990, and by 1975-76 to reach 61,340 students. Of the projected 1975-76 enrollments, 25,000 students are anticipated for the Columbia campus, compared to 14,332 in 1963-64; 16,000 at Kansas City, which had 2,709 in 1963-64; 8,900 at Rolla, compared to 3,621 in 1963-64; and 11,400 at St. Louis, which had 672 students in 1963-64.

The University is not trying to meet the 1975 needs through the 1968-69 capital improvements budget, Dr. Weaver stressed, but is hoping to meet as nearly as possible the requirements in the years immediately ahead, while offsetting some of the accumulated problems. Nor is it asking the state to provide the entire financing of the capital construction and improvements for 1968-69, he pointed out; the State funds will be considerably augmented by a total of nearly $26.0 million in funds from Federal and other sources.

"The Curators are taking advantage of all Federal and other funds which may or will become available to supplement financing of buildings," he said. Because of the need for rapid development of the two urban campuses several major structures at Kansas City and St. Louis have been placed high on the priority list in the budget request. At the top in new construction priority is the School of Education Building at Kansas City; high priority is accorded a performing arts center and a physical sciences building and lecture halls there. At St. Louis high priority is given an arts and science classroom and office building, and a fine arts, speech and dramatic arts facility. Among high priority buildings at Rolla for which state funds are asked are a mathematics and computer science building, and a chemical engineering building. Remodeling of three buildings at Columbia, one completed in 1969, another in 1972, and the third in 1973, are also given high priority, as are laboratory animal facilities at Columbia and Kansas City to bring the University into compliance with a recently enacted federal law. Expansion of the University Hospital outpatient department at Columbia also is a major request; it would come from non-state funds.

'AN UNLICENSED BAKERY' is what the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture called the kitchen stove of Mrs. William Hershberger, 26, wife of an Amish farmer at New Glarus, Wis. But she kept right on baking for sale to hundreds of tourists who want a close look at these "plain folk," in their southern Wisconsin settlement. "If I believed it were a sin I would quit," she said.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Choose God or...

THE egalitarians have made great progress in their campaign to give the man with innate limitations and the man who is slothful and improvident, the same voice in the direction of public affairs as our more responsible citizens. It does not require much intelligence to see where that will lead us. The republican form of government set up by the Founding Fathers was intended to offer some safeguards against the egalitarian theory, but a long line of so-called reforms, such as direct election of senators, initiative, referendum, and recall, election of judges, redistricting to obtain near equality in numbers of voters in our election districts, and paralyzing restrictions on the police in their efforts to control crime, have just about swept away the advantages of the republican form of government and are fast bringing upon us more and more democracy. A democracy of God-fearing people who follow devoutly and earnestly the moral law of God, would be ideal. But unfortunately we have just about eliminated God and His moral law.

In my youth the people had great confidence in rectitude. It was generally recognized that some things were right and other things were wrong. One who adhered resolutely to the standard of always doing right had no fear of getting into trouble and seldom would eventually conquer his handicaps and problems and achieve success. His courage sprang from the fact that he had always done right. That put him on God's side, and one with God is a majority. When people have that kind of faith and live up to such ideals, men become invincible, and society strides steadily forward. There was respect for distinction and accomplishment in those days. We delighted to honor men who had excelled in achievement. They made clear the goal for the rest of us. Instead of pulling them down, we sought to imitate them. That kind of ideology tends to upgrade society. The ideal is to strive for equality by dragging down those who have achieved a higher level — down to the common denominator. The conclusion of the whole matter then, is that we must choose God or perish.

Maj. Gen. Sampson Is Chaplains' Chief

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The U.S. Senate has confirmed President Lyndon B. Johnson's nomination of Chaplain (Maj. Gen.) Francis L. Sampson as U.S. Army Chief

Maj. Gen. Sampson of Chaplains and his promotion to major general. Chaplain Sampson has been serving as acting Chief of Chaplains since Aug. 1, succeeding Chaplain (Maj. Gen.) Charles E. Brown, who retired on that date. Known as the "Paratrooper Padre," for his airborne service in Holland, Chaplain Sampson won the Distinguished Service Cross during World War II. Serving as Deputy Chief of Chaplains since January 1966, Chaplain Sampson received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Notre Dame and a Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree from St. Paul Seminary.

General Accused of Intimidation

FT. SHERIDAN, Md. (AP) — A former commander of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., has been accused of trying to intimidate an Army major representing six convicted soldiers.

The charge was made against Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Lipscomb by Maj. David J. Passananeck. Maj. Passananeck represents six soldiers found guilty and sentenced by courts martial between Sept. 1, 1966, and Aug. 31 at Ft. Leonard Wood while Lipscomb was commander.

The soldiers maintain the general used his rank to influence officers on court martial panels to hand out severe penalties. They said this was done because Lipscomb allegedly felt harsh penalties would improve discipline at the military post. A U.S. military court of appeals ruled in July that an inquiry be made to determine if the charges against Lipscomb be substantiated. Maj. Passananeck accused Gen. Lipscomb of telling him before Thursday's hearing session that the questions he had asked the first day of the hearing, Wednesday, had been aggressive and did not "conform to ethics."

Passananeck said he told the general: "I have a hard job. I am trying to do a good job and you might not agree with all that I do."

The major told the alleged incident to Col. John Barr, a law officer presiding at the hearing. Passananeck said: "I consider the remarks this morning as an attempt to intimidate me due to his rank and office."

Gen. Lipscomb countered that he had objected to the "misquoting" of directives he had issued on courts martial while at Ft. Leonard Wood.

Barr told Lipscomb: "I must consider you as just any other witness and allow counsel for both sides their right of probing and questioning and sometimes being quite forceful in search matters."

The six soldiers' experiences are serving as test cases for 72 soldiers convicted by courts martial during Gen. Lipscomb's command.

Indian Suggests Reading of History to Understand Customs

Dear Ann Landers: I am chairman of the Indian Tribal Council. My people and I read your column daily and we like it very much. I am writing in response to the letter from "Just Asking" who thought parents must be crazy to give their children odd names, such as July Bonus and Tin Cans. The name the reader felt was the craziest of all was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Around. They christened the boy, Stick.

It so happens that our son is also named Stick. His full name is William Walking Stick. In the Indian language this name has great significance. It means Hereditary Chief.

If "Just Asking" will come out here, I will be happy to introduce him to Horse Face, Cal-looking, Dogman and Sky-Eyes, to name a few.

The American Indians have many interesting customs. I hope the appalled gentleman will read up on our history and then perhaps he will not call us crazy.

---CHIEF WAH-NEE-OTA
Dear Chief: Thank you for enlightening all of us. And please give my best regards to your son, Stick.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to direct my letter to the young man who wrote to tell you about his first and last experience with LSA. He may have saved my life. He may also have saved hundreds, perhaps thousands of other lives around the country. In my book he's a hero.

I am an 18-year-old who had been toying with the idea of taking LSD as an experiment. I had heard many conflicting reports from kids who had tried it. Some reported groovy trips. Others said it was pure Hell and warned me not to fool around with it because it's impossible to predict in advance what the effects might be.

The letter you published gave me a very good picture of what LSD can do. It can scramble your brains and wreck your nervous system. It can take you out of this world and leave you there. The description of that kid's struggle to get back to reality was enough to kill my curiosity. I consider myself lucky to have seen his letter because I realize now that my curiosity could have killed me.

I know you can't tell me the name of the guy who wrote it but, please, Ann, print my letter and tell him he did a wonderful thing for all the youth of America. God bless him. ---SPARED
Dear Spared: Here's your letter and I hope he sees it. I have received hundreds of letters from teen-agers who expressed the same sentiment. You said it best, Dear Ann Landers: My daughter-in-law is a sweet person and my son is crazy about her, but every time I come their house I have indigestion. She is such a dreadful housekeeper my heart aches for that boy.

It must be terrible for a young man who was brought up in a home that was orderly, and well organized to have to live in all that dirt. I'd never say anything to her, of course, but perhaps if you print this letter my daughter-in-law will see it and take the hint. ---MRS. ANONYMOUS
Dear Mrs. Clean: I'm not an advocate of sloppy housekeeping but, believe me, this is way down on the list of what makes husbands miserable. If your son is "crazy about her" I'll bet he doesn't even see the dirt.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents... If you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50¢ in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

The Rev. R. M. Talbert, pastor of the Christian church, has been appointed by Mayor Marvin L. Carroll, as chairman of a local committee to coordinate community activities in connection with the return of World War II dead from overseas for reburial.

Three new permits to build during the past week has brought the estimated total cost of construction in Sikeston during the first half of October to $77,000.

Highlights and Sidelights

HEARNES CRITICIZES DRAFT INEQUALITIES
JEFFERSON CITY -- Gov. Warren E. Hearnes for the first time has criticized U.S. draft policies as unequal and unfair in a speech last week at the 50th Anniversary Convocation and Dedication of the Greenleaf Library at Rockhurst College in Kansas City.

"Each American must have an equal chance to live, which means each must face equal responsibility for the defense of his country," Hearnes said.

"But how can I consider any of my fellow citizens equal when a married man with children is drafted from one selective service jurisdiction, while another 20-year-old is allowed to extend his education deferment and gain a college education until the time comes when he is no longer sought by his draft board?"

The Governor called the Congress to task for failing to improve the draft system last spring when the old law had expired. "Instead of remodeling the quarter-century-old law, Congress chose to 'modify' and preserve many of the inequities existing in it."

Hearnes specifically took a shot at Congressman L. Mendel Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, who had told him that young men who do not enter college have an equal chance to live along with those in college, stating that "every young man can go to college."

"I disagree completely," Hearnes said. "It is simply not true that every man can go to college."

He referred to those who either are not mentally qualified for college, but are for the draft, and those who do not have the financial capability to continue their education.

"You can check this out among high school students in your own home town, that each year some of these 18-year-old boys miss the chance to college simply because they have no knowledge of the student loan programs."

"If the United States hopes to convince the rest of the world that all men are created equal, we must show the way in all phases of life, not in just a few," he said.

Hearnes went on to label as "individual fairness rather than inequity in the system" the fact that some young men can, by joining the National Guard or the Army Reserve, spend six months in active service and avoid the draft.

"If this is done only when that young man is sure his name is about to come up on the draft lists, then we can question his motives," he said.

The examples of unfairness in the selective service point to only one conclusion, Hearnes said -- "We are relying upon a draft system which is replete with inequities, and a system which fails to draw equally from the resources of young men available."

He charged that the present system "fails to allow young men to plan their futures with any degree of certainty. Not everyone will serve, but draft eligibility extends to at least the age of 26 and often to the age of 35 if a deferment has been granted for educational reasons."

Although Hearnes offered no solutions for changing the draft law, he said that if part of the problem is caused by the much talked about decline in patriotism, more of it is caused by the belief that the war in Vietnam is not necessary to protect the freedom of the United States.

Without debating our position in Vietnam, the Governor said: "We are in Vietnam -- men are fighting -- men are dying."

"Our nation and our youth cannot continue with the haphazard situation we now encounter. Let us employ a compass of common sense and chart a course which will benefit both, and ensure equality and fairness as our Constitution not only promises, but dictates."

OPEN RACE FOR L.T. GOVERNOR
The vacuum left when Lt. Gov. Thomas Eagleton withdrew his bid for another term may draw primary candidates in large numbers crossing personal and intraparty lines of the state Democratic Party. Eagleton has filed for United States Senator against incumbent Democrat Edward V. Long of Clarksville.

Already in the race is State Sen. Earl Blackwell (D-Hillsboro) who has been independent of most intraparty feuds but has lent support to many of Gov. Warren Hearnes' legislative programs.

Also filing early was Jackson County Clerk W. B. (Bill) Morris -- a friend of the Governor and the only office holder in Jackson County government who opposed the present County Court slate headed by Presiding Judge Charles Curry.

To continue the list, Curry himself is reported to be strongly considering the race, although the D. Graham (D-Jefferson City) and the Governor have been at odds on legislative programs for candidate for some office next

If You Were the Judge

Stopping Clock Made Criminal Law Invalid

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

The regular session of a state legislature was fixed by law not to exceed 60 days. Finding itself with a lot of work to complete on the 60th day, the legislators stopped the clock until they could finish it. With Father Time thus detained, the legislators passed a criminal law at 11:30 on the official clock of the 60th day of the regular session. Actually, it was well past the 61st day. Consequently, when Ruby was arrested for violating that law, he insisted that it was as void as outer space.

"You can't stop time by stopping a clock," she argued in court. "Since the law was enacted after the legislative session had actually ended, the legislature had no right to pass it."

"Of course they did," was the prosecutor's answer. "Stopping the official clock is common and reasonable practice in many legislatures. If it wasn't, our lawmakers would end up clock-eyed trying to get their work done in the prescribed time."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you convict Ruby of violating the clock-eyed law? This is how the judge ruled: Ruby was ordered released. The judge held that the state legislature had no right to extend its session by stopping the clock; that where the law fixes the duration of a regular legislative session, the legislature loses its powers at the end of that period. And, it's a 60-day session, any law passed on the 61st day is invalid. (Based upon a 1963 West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals Decision)

Dr. A.C. Magill Chosen Squier

CAPE GIRARDEAU - Announced - been made a member of the Missouri Academy of Squires. By naming him one of their number, the squires attested to Dr. Magill's service as an educator for 43 years, as an elected county and state official, for his humanitarian endeavors, for his work as a Rotary district governor, and for the honors that have come his way because of a dedicated life.

Dr. Magill is the father of Mrs. W. P. Hunter of Sikeston. Annual classes are elected by vote of the academy and members. Selection to the Academy of Squires is recognition of high blem, a gold-headed cane whose service to the state of Missouri. design includes a replica of the It is won only by election by the state seal, and a scroll carrying members of the organization, the citation of accomplishment by which was started in 1960 by the member.

Jackson County, partially stemming from unhealed political wounds in the 1964 governor's race when Hearnes defeated Hillary Bush of Kansas City. At the opposite end of the political post and still undecided is former House Speaker Thomas D. Graham (D-Jefferson City). Graham has said he will be a candidate for some office next year, but has not indicated whether he will file again for state representative or attempt the lieutenant governor's race.

Good boys steal, too.

Your boy wouldn't steal a car. Probably not. But every day 1,000 cars are stolen by teen-agers. Many younger than 16. Very often it is a sudden impulse in a boy who has everything, needs to steal nothing, a "good" boy. But your unlocked car with the keys in the ignition is a powerful temptation. An open invitation to a joyride. And a 200 times better chance of an accident—to him or someone else. You know what to do about it.

Don't help a good boy go bad. Lock your car. Take your keys.

State Taxes Keep Rising

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
Associated Press Writer

State taxes, like rivers in flood season, are rising and spreading. The heavy legislative year, over in all but a few states, left less ground where citizens could find refuge from taxes.

Levies are in effect on:

- Cigarettes in 49 states, all but North Carolina.
- Sales in 44.
- Corporate income in 40.
- Personal income in 38.
- Gasoline in all.

An Associated Press survey shows legislatures went in more for increasing old taxes than finding new sources of revenue. Take, for instance, California. The legislators approved a $1-billion tax program, the biggest tax increase in the state's history. It concluded boosts in income, sales, cigarette, liquor, banks, corporation and inheritance taxes. But about $115 million was set aside for property tax relief in 1968-69.

Three states entered the income tax field.

Michigan's Legislature adopted a package that included, for the first time in that state, income taxes on individuals, corporations and financial institutions. The personal income tax rate is 2.6 per cent. It is expected to bring in about $240 million a year. The 5.6 per cent corporate income tax, which replaced a complicated tax on business, is expected to produce $46 million next year, and the 7 per cent income tax on financial institutions is calculated to yield $2 million.

Nebraska, another newcomer in that area, enacted a corporate and personal income tax. The rates, set by the state Board of Equalization, are 10 per cent of the federal tax on personal income and 2 per cent of a corporation's taxable income.

Nine states increased sales taxes. The range of such taxes is 2 per cent to 5 per cent. The only states that do not tax sales are Alaska, Delaware, Montana, New Hampshire, Oregon and Vermont.

Eight states boosted cigarette taxes, half of them— Iowa, California, Alabama and Maine—jacking them up to 10 cents. But they're still a cent below the 11 cents collected in New Jersey, Texas and Washington.

Eight legislatures increased state taxes on gasoline. The spread is from 5 cents up to 11 cents a gallon in Hawaii.

Fig's Calories

A pound of figs has high fuel value because it contains 1,500 calories. This is one-half greater than the calories contained in a pound of steak.

This one will take a lot of footwork," said Police Capt. R. C. Jones. "We have absolutely nothing to go on."

Juvenile officials arranged care for the four orphaned youngsters, none of whom was harmed.

Authorities said the Rev. James Henderson, 26, and his wife, Louise, 23, apparently were shot at close range with an automatic pistol several hours before police were called to the home early Sunday.

No weapon has been found.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Castleberry, Sikeston; one son M. cpl. Roger Butler, Jacksonville, N. C.; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Koch, Indianapolis, and Mrs. Alma Boyt, Bakersfield, Calif.; and one grandchild.

Trim, New MAYTAG

"Timer-Less" Dryer

Takes orders from you - not from a clock!

This Maytag makes clothes timers old-fashioned. Now you can dry a variety of clothes together without under-drying some fabrics and over-baking others. Maytag's Electronic Control senses the moisture in your clothes and keeps the drying process going until the clothes reach the degree of dryness you want: Air Fluff, Damp Dry, Wash 'n Wear or Regular. Then it shuts itself off. Your clothes, dried in a gentle circle of heat, are exactly as you prescribed.

New-Generation Maytag Dryers (like new Maytag Washers) have tremendous load capacity. Yet, the new dryers take up 3 inches less floor space than previous models. They carry the strongest warranty* in Maytag's history, too. And it's with any New-Generation Dryer you buy.

Pick one out today—any model, any color—for gas or electric operation. Either way, you're ahead with a Maytag!

*2 years on complete dryer. 5 years on cabinet against rust. Free repair or exchange of defective parts is the responsibility of selling franchised Maytag dealer within first year; thereafter installation is extra.
